

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction	xii
Food First Reality Tour Participants	xv
Chapter 1 • Borderlands	1
Destinations
The Border Farmworkers' Center in El Paso, Texas, a homeless shelter and resource center for migrant farmworkers	1
Colonia settlements along the U.S.-Mexico Border, and a conversation with children across the border fence	7
Cervantes Inc., a large chile pepper operation in New Mexico, which employs migrant workers in its fields on both sides of the border	13
La Mujer Obrera, an El Paso grassroots community development organization through which unemployed former factory workers are revitalizing a neighborhood and creating new economic opportunities for themselves	19
Background Boxes
Conditions for U.S. Farmworkers	6
The U.S.-Mexico Border Fence	11
NAFTA and the U.S.-Mexico Border	17
Maquiladoras	25

Chapter 2 • Chihuahua 29

Destinations

- Meeting with farmers' organization El Frente Democrático Campesino and Chihuahua state representative Victor Quintana to learn about the history of migration from this agricultural region 29
- Meeting with farmers in the small town of Santa Isabel, Chihuahua, to hear their experiences and perspectives on migration 37
- Visit to El Ranchero Solidario, a rural farmer-owned cooperative grocery store that is creating new market opportunities and providing an alternative to migration 42
- Visit to a nearby ejido to speak with local farmers and returned migrants about their struggle to start productive projects and make a living in agriculture at home 53

Background Boxes

- Origins of the Green Revolution in Mexico 31
- Biofuels in Mexico 35
- Agricultural Guest-Worker Programs 39
- Government Support for Agriculture in Mexico 44
- Direct Marketing in Agriculture 47
- Effects of Synthetic Fertilizers on Soil 55

Chapter 3: Mexico City 61

Destinations

- Regional forum of La Vía Campesina, the International Peasant Movement 61
- Meeting with Diputada Susana Monreal Avila, member of the Mexican Congress, to discuss NAFTA and migration 65

Background Boxes

- La Vía Campesina: The International Peasant Movement 63
- The U.S. Farm Bill 67
- NAFTA: Effects on Agriculture 71

Chapter 4: Tlaxcala	78
Destinations
Campefino a Campefino training center in the village of Vicente Guerrero, and local fields where sustainable agriculture practices are being implemented to increase soil fertility and crop yields	80
Background Boxes
The Green Revolution and Peasant Agriculture	81
Direct Marketing by Small Farmers in Central and Southern Mexico	94
Chapter 5: Oaxaca	106
Destinations
Itanoní, an urban restaurant working to preserve traditional maize varieties by purchasing them from regional indigenous farmers	108
Meeting with activist Aldo Gonzáles of the Union of Organizations of the Sierra Juárez Mountains of Oaxaca (UNOSJO) about the struggle to protect local natural resources from extraction by outside corporations, and the connection between environmental issues and migration	111
Meeting with leaders of the Center for Integral Small Farmer Development of the Mixteca (CEDICAM) about the connections between soil erosion, sustainable agriculture, and migration	125
Village of Saragoza, to learn from community members about their efforts to resist migration through sustainable agriculture and environmental restoration	129
Background Boxes
Genetically Engineered Corn in Mexico	117
Epilogue	142
Update on Mexico–U.S. migration, the Farm Bill, NAFTA, and immigration policy	142
Overview of the Global Food Crisis and Mexican Tortilla Crisis	144

The International Assessment of Agricultural Knowledge, Science, and Technology for Development	145
Personal reflection on the issues and alternatives presented in this book, and how they are connected to our own lives	148
Appendix: Guide to Action	151
Endnotes	153
References for Background Boxes	162
About the Author	175
About Food First	176